“The Magic Megaphone” Testimonials

“As more project teams and managers, both inside and outside of Intel, have used the Magic Megaphone, word has spread about its speed and simplicity. It has become a reliable tool because it works for so many applications. Teams are using the Magic Megaphone, not just to get projects out of a rut, but also to spark innovation, to manage transitions, to develop marketing and communication plans, and to assist in team building. This will become one of the most widely used management tools ever developed.”

*-John Johnson, Vice President and Chief Information Officer
Intel Corporation*

“We used the Magic Megaphone to help us manage membership sales and services, breaking all membership records. As a result, Nick Montoya is in demand to share the Magic Megaphone for every Chamber initiative, event and project.”

*-Diana M. Borroel, President and CEO
Sacramento Hispanic Chamber of Commerce*

“It is the simplest and fastest process I have used to get a project team mobilized. The results were always outstanding. The Magic Megaphone is a quick, easy and effective way to get your team and customers lined-up.”

*-Craig Haydamack, IT Manager
Intel*

“As the challenges and complexities of life grow in an increasingly global and flat world, it is easy to find ourselves stuck in ruts. The Magic Megaphone puts your daily activities into perspective. This book offers a great MegaPlan for ambitious folks seeking to get projects – both personal and workplace projects – unstuck. It’s a great book for operational managers with little business background. The Magic Megaphone is a five-star book for reaching success, a MUST READ of the likes of The World is Flat and In Search of Excellence.”

*-Sanjay Varshney, PhD, CFA
Dean-College of Business Administration
California State University, Sacramento*

“I use the Magic Megaphone to help my team focus on key opportunities at my auto dealership. We consistently exceed our goals and we are now the number one Dodge dealer in all of California.”

*-Carlos Hidalgo, President
Folsom Lake Dodge*
